Theory and Practice Publications

The Alternative to Capitalism – Adam Buick & John Crump
"Buick and Crump's work is different – it defies the adage that it is easier to imagine the end of the world than the end of capitalism."
Laura Potts – The Norwich Radical

The Joy of Revolution – Ken Knabb
"The Joy of Revolution, is a simple, but not simplistic, outline of why and how a non-hierarchical, non-statist society might be possible."
Eugenia Lovelace – Red and Black

With the Peasants of Aragon – Augustin Souchy
In 1936, the people of Spain rose up, overthrew their masters and took power into their own hands. In the villages and small towns of Aragon, they began to live in a way never seen before in modern Europe. Their ideal – libertarian communism.

The Kronstadt Uprising – Ida Mett
Ida Mett dispels the myths of the Bolsheviks and provides a dramatic and engaging account of the events that made clear the true nature of the 'proletarian' dictatorship.

Clans and Clearance – Alwyn Edgar
If you go to the Scottish Highlands now, you will find many valleys almost without people. Yet we know from history and archaeology that many people lived in the Highlands for thousands of years. What happened?

The Machine and Its Discontents: A Fredy Perlman Anthology
Writings on May 1968, nationalism, revolutionary leaders and more. Many of these texts have been out of print for some time.

www.theoryandpractice.org.uk

Image by Fredy Perlman